Hoffa Could Be Losing Iron Grip on Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa has backed off from a crackling Teamsters Union row over whether the union should continue paying his legal fees, stirring speculation he is losing his iron grip on the Teamsters.

Hoffa, never known for ducking scraps but now beset by troubles with the law, yielded to a demand by one of his vice presidents that the union stop paying the bills until it can be determined whether or not it is in violation of federal law.

Edward Bennett Williams, the Teamsters general counsel who has defended Hoffa in some of his legal battles, is reported to have ruled that the union will be breaking the law if it pays the fees.

Hoffa, according to an aide, made his decision in Chicago where he is on trial on federal charges of misusing $20 million in union pension reserves.

"Mr. Hoffa wants to find out if such payments are legal," said Teamsters Vice President Harold J. Gibbons in St. Louis. "The decision will not be reversed until the legality is upheld by a nationally outstanding authority."

Gibbons, who resigned in December as Hoffa's executive assistant and closest aide, said "Mr. Hoffa made the decision in view of a request by Teamsters Vice President John J. O'Rourke of New York."

Gibbons denied reports that the funds had been run off by the union's secretary-treasurer. "It was strictly Mr. Hoffa's decision, until the legal issues are settled," said Gibbons.

Students Hear Dr. and Mrs. Bagley

The two sixth grades of Garland, teachers Mrs. M. B. Hatch and Miss Kathleen Broach, invited Dr. and Mrs. Roy Bagley to speak to students Monday, April 27.

Dr. and Mrs. Bagley, who have traveled extensively in Western Europe and the Orient, gave an illustrated lecture on India and Pakistan. Dr. Bagley told the students that of the many impressions the visitor receives of India outstanding is the fact that the teeming masses are incredibly poor, the upper classes are incredibly rich (he told of one wealthy person painting the toenails of his elephants with pure gold in preparation for a celebration), and the majority of the people are incredibly illiterate.

Dr. Bagley also pointed out that America can be proud of the fact that it was the Bishop of an American church who was credited with influencing Nehru not to go Communist when he became Prime Minister of the Republic of India.

Regulatory Agency Is Suggested

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Subcommittees advised the Arkansas Economic Expansion Study Commission Monday that the state may need a regulatory agency to protect against investments in weak companies.

Frank Whitebeck of Little Rock, head of the two groups studying institution financing and financing regulations, said there have been a number of incidents in Arkansas in which communities have approved bond issues for industries that have failed.

He said the subcommittees found that there is no central agency that could protect towns or individuals from bad investments.

Band Does Well at State Festival

At the state band festival in Hot Springs Saturday, April 25, Hope bands earned 42 first place medals and 39 second place medals and received praise from concert judge Joe Berryman, who said, "The school and town can feel justly proud of the fine students in this band. This is a very, very fine band and makes me proud that I directed Hope's band in 1927."

"Very fine musical performance," said concert judge Don Mix. "Nice work, band; you were a joy to hear." General comments from the sightreading judge included, "Band tones under control. . . . You have some fine readers in this band. . . . March well done. . . . On the overture lovely flute tone, nice alto sax solo, nice trombone solo. . . . Band plays quite well in tune and knows how to count time."

Winners of first division medals and the number received were: Phil McLarty, 4; Tony Smith, Amelia Gaines, Ricky Stone, Paddy Davis, 3 each; Joe Keesey, Larry Williams, Joe Hargis, Gayle Williams, Ann Arnold, 2 each; Ronnie Brents.

Comes to Defense of the Plain Dandelion and Jumping to Other Conclusions Hastily

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Dandelions, now gleaming like gold coins on millions of American lawns, are among the loveliest plants known to man. Anybody who uproots them before they are through blooming is a snob and a horticultural social climber—and may his green thumb turn blue!

Flying from Chicago to New York last week, I heard a fellow passenger complain, "The trouble with this flight is you get there before you can finish your second martini."

It is said that one of the things Gen. Charles de Gaulle detests most is talking over the telephone. Any man who holds this view can't be altogether bad.

Murphy in Race for Congress

Dean Murphy

Dean Murphy, 44, Hope businessman and former Circuit and Chancery Clerk of Little River County, announced Tuesday afternoon that he will be a candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives from the 4th congressional district in the Democratic Primary.

In making his announcement Murphy said, "I believe that if I stay in Congress twenty-four straight years, it will be possible for me to find something more useful to do than trying to get laws enacted which would raise the price of drugs and other necessities under such FALSE titles as 'Quality Stabilization Bill,' 'Fair Trade Bill,' or any other such misleading titles. Price fixing bills will never get my support as this is just another way of gouging the public." He obviously was making a thrust at Oren Harris, incumbent congressman, who has authored and supported several such measures.

A World War II veteran, Mr. Murphy has been active in American Legion activities throughout the State and is the present Post Commander at Hope. He is a York Rite Mason and Shriner and has held many offices in the Masonic organization. Married to the former Bobbye Seltan, he is the father of two children, Michael Dean, 14, and Patti Ann, 10. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Murphy who have lived and conducted a business in the Wallace community near Foreman for 50 years. Mr. Murphy has lived in Little River, Miller, and Hempstead Counties all his life except for the years spent in the U. S. Air Force during the war. Mr. Murphy is a deacon in the First Baptist Church and teaches a Men's Sunday School Class.

He was graduated from Foreman High School and has two years of college work at Texarkana College and the University of Tennessee, the work at the University of Tennessee coming after he had joined the U. S. Air Corps. After the war he studied law in the firm of Johnson and Johnson for six years. The senior member of that firm was the late Hon. C. E. Johnson, former Chief Justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

"One thing I promise the voters," Mr. Murphy stated, "I will not sail my campaign ship 12 times down a badly polluted nine-foot Ouachita River channel. I believe that in 24 years with a good sharp-pointed shovel I could dig a channel half-way from Camden to Monroe all by myself."

Murphy stated, "There are many very important issues which will be brought to the attention of the voters before this campaign comes to a close and I assure you, contrary to past activities in this congressional district, the people will be able to know my beliefs and what I stand for without having an interpreter to decipher my remarks. It will not take me thirty minutes to tell my name." In closing Murphy said, "I am most anxious to represent all the people of this district and not just a privileged few."

Local Girl to Audition for Opera

ST. LOUIS — Miss Tena L. Pilkinton of Hope, a second year student at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., will receive an audition by the St. Louis Municipal Opera in Keil auditorium on May 15.

Representatives of the opera company who heard her sing a selection from Madam Butterfly at a student voice recital on the college campus Sunday, and immediately offered her an audition. The St. Louis Municipal Opera is famous for its out-of-doors summer light operas which are presented in Forest Park each season.

Miss Pilkinton is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. James H. Pilkinton of Hope. She is a graduate of Hope High School and a former music pupil of Mrs. R. L. Gosnell of Hope. She sang for years as a member of the First Presbyterian Church Choir in her home city.

Say Gamblers Don't Want It Legal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette said today that casino operators at Hot Springs were reported opposed to the move to legalize gambling in the resort city.

Supporters of the proposed amendment to legalize gambling in Garland County filed the ballot title and popular name of the proposal with Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett Monday.

The move was the first formal step toward a statewide vote on legalizing the gambling operations in Hot Springs. Gov. Orval Faubus ordered the illegal gambling shut down last month.

The Gazette said: "The gamblers reportedly are not interested in foreigning the gambling issue to a vote. A casino owner said Monday that the gamblers didn't want to be taxed by the city, the county and the state. The source, who declined to be identified for publication, said the gamblers were not consulted about the petition. He said that as far as he knew the gamblers were opposed to the proposal in general."

Rain Hurts Vote in Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rain over most of Pennsylvania today put a damper on the primary election and threatened to make an expected light voter turnout even more sparse.

Republican politicians, pressing for a large write-in vote for Gov. William W. Scranton for president, regarded the bad weather as a setback.

Scranton, 46, said he didn't expect any massive outpouring and predicted a small write-in because there is "not a great deal of interest in Pennsylvania over this election."

Faubus Lashes Out at New Opponent, Declares Gop Foe Rockefeller Put Up Money

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Orval E. Faubus charged in a free-wheeling news conference today that Winthrop Rockefeller is financing candidates for governor in the Democratic primary.

"There is a real desperate flurry of money and money offers," Faubus said, predicting that at least two more would file in the Democratic primary before the deadline at noon Wednesday.

"All those millions floating around could only come from one place," Faubus said.

He was then asked if he was saying that Rockefeller is putting candidates into the Democratic primary against him, and he replied, "I am."

"I have never seen as many prospective or possible candidates who claim they have offers of plenty of funds," Faubus said.

"The biggest debate in the minds of some is whether to take the funds and run with the purpose of cutting on me in the primary."

"What some are debating is whether to sacrifice their future as possible winning candidates by taking the money and getting in for the purpose for which it's offered — that is, to cut on me," Faubus said.

The governor said he did not intend to retaliate because he does not have "enough money to put another candidate in" against Rockefeller.

"But if that's the way the man on the mountain is going to play, the people might as well begin to learn it," he said.

"When all those fellows pile in there tomorrow, I want the people to know that I know what's going on."

Faubus said Rockefeller not only is interfering in the Democratic primary but that he also had a hand in the filing of Kenneth Hurst of Clarendon on the States Rights Party ticket.

"That fellow admits that (former Gov. Ben) Laney put him in," Faubus said. "Everybody knows that Laney is working for Rockefeller. Any votes that Hurst gets would come from Rockefeller's support."

Faubus declined to name the two candidates that he predicted would file Wednesday. He wrote their names on a slip of paper, sealed the slip in an envelope, and handed it to a newsman to hold until after the filing deadline.

"I don't think we can know the true picture of just how we are progressing by comparing ourselves to ourselves some years ago," he commented.

Against Prayer Amendment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Council of Churches issued a statement Monday opposing the adoption of an amendment to the U.S. constitution which would legalize prayer and Bible reading in public schools.

The Rev. Sam J. Allen, executive secretary of the council, said approval of the Becker Amendment would make school prayers and bible reading an issue in every local school election.

Allen said the issue could develop over the type of prayer devotion, the version of the Lord's Prayer to be said, or the version of the Bible to be read.

Greeks in Drive for Key Pass

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Cypriot forces renewed their drive for St. Hilarion Castle and the strategic Kyrenia Pass shortly after dawn with mortar fire on Turkish positions.

After a night of sporadic firing, Greek national guardsmen lobbed three 60mm mortar shells into gunposts near the 11th-century castle.

The tempo appeared reduced from heavy fighting Monday. A U.N. spokesman said positions seemed unchanged overnight. Greek forward elements were reported within a quarter-mile of the fortress.

A Turkish Cypriot spokesman said the Turks held the castle and that the Greeks had been driven back. There was no confirmation of the latter claim.

The offensive opened before dawn Saturday with a surprise attack that overran Turkish positions. The Greek Cypriots swept four miles forward toward the castle along the 2,500-foot-high crest of the Kyrenia Range.

A U.N. spokesman said a number of mortar shells had hit the castle, but the extent of damage to the historic structure was not known.

Greek Cypriot officers said the Turkish defenders rejected a surrender ultimatum relayed by Canadian U.N. troops.

Below the steep mountain sides Canadian soldiers patrolled the Turkish villages of Phliveri, Krini and Agirda to protect inhabitants. Most Turkish families had fled.

Canadian troops also set up roadblocks on the Kyrenia highway east and north of the castle. A U.N. spokesman said their aim was to observe military movements and control other traffic into the fighting area.

"There are certain types of fighting we cannot stop," the spokesman said. "If the fighting is of such a nature that interposing yourself between the sides means you are blasted by both sides, that is of no value."

U.N. officers were reported trying to arrange a cease-fire. The twin objectives of the Greeks were the castle itself and the high point of the Nicosia-Kyrenia highway, a pass over the mountains about a mile east of the castle.

Capture of these points would remove the last important Turkish threat to the Kyrenia area, on the north coast of the island, and would isolate Turkish villages on the mountainsides.

The Turks have controlled the highway since the start of the civil war between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots last Christmas season. With the pass in their hands, the Greeks could drive south and open the rest of the road to traffic between the capital and the Kyrenia.

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Cypriot forces brought the Turkish-held Kyrenia Pass under fire for the first time today and sporadically attacked the castle of St. Hilarion from positions only about 200 yards away.

A U.N. officer said the Greeks threatened to plaster Kyrenia road, a link between Nicosia and the Turkish-held highlands near the north coast, with mortar shells.

Compared to earlier actions in the area, however, the scale of the fighting remained minor. There was a brief flurry of shots about dawn. Greek guardsmen lobbed three mortar shells at gunposts near the 11th century castle.

Twenty-seven shells have fallen inside the castle since the Greek offensive started, but I found no damage to the structure on a visit to the Turkish stronghold.

Greek forces worked through the night to fortify advanced positions at the base of the lofty crag on which the castle is perched. By the light of the moon, they dug elaborate foxholes and camouflaged them.

The commander of the U.N. peace-keeping force, Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, said the Greek offensive could have illegal, Gibbons explained, and copies went to all the union vice-presidents.

"Teamsters vice presidents agreed Friday to hire an outstanding legal authority from outside the union to study the problem," he said. "Hoffa made his decision in a phone call to the vice presidents today."

Williams' opinion that it is illegal to use union funds to pay Hoffa's trial expenses had the potential of putting both the Teamsters strong man and the 15-member executive board on a financial spot.

Williams reportedly told executive board members they could be made personally responsible if they continue authorizing use of union funds for Hoffa's legal defense.

Further, Williams reportedly advised that Hoffa could be liable for personal income taxes on union money used to pay his trial costs estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Flour Firms Indicted for Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve flour milling firms were indicted today on charges of conspiring over the past six years to fix prices.

A federal grand jury in Buffalo, N.Y., handed down the indictment against the companies, which produce 65 per cent of the bakery flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains. The indictment also names as defendants six officers of the firms.

As a result of the alleged conspiracy, it is charged, commercial buyers of flour have been subjected to artificially high and non-competitive prices.

The indictment names these defendants:

General Mills Inc. and William A. Lohman Jr., vice president; the Pillsbury Co.; Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.; and Lawrence J. Weidt, vice president; International Milling Company Inc.; the Peavey Co. and William R. Heegaard, vice president, all of Minneapolis; Bay State Milling Co. of Winoona, Minn., and Bernard J. Rothwell II, president; the Weber Flour Mills Co. and the Western Star Mill Co., both of Salina, Kan.; Gooch Milling Salina, Kan.; Gooch Milling Elevator Co. of Lincoln, Neb.; Inland Mills Inc. of Des Moines, Iowa, and John J. Vanier, who is president of Weber, Western Star and Inland and vice president of Gooch; the Colorado Milling & Elevator Co. of Denver and Earl F. Cross, president, and Seaboard Allied Milling Corp. of Newton, Mass.

No Poll Tax and Barred From Filing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A man who gave his name as Harry A. Diehl of near Mt. Ida tried unsuccessfully today to file as a Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant told the man that he was ineligible because he does not have a current Arkansas poll tax.

The man said he had been a resident of Arkansas for 8½ years but he had never paid a poll tax or voted here.

He said he ran for governor of Texas "for two weeks" in 1960 and that he was a candidate for a short time in the special Senate election in which Republican John Tower was elected in 1961.

Bryant told him that if he really wanted to run he could pay the current poll tax and he would be eligible to campaign as an independent this fall.

The would-be candidate said he wanted to help the GOP because "the people in the hills are realizing they've been dumb and Democratic too long."

He brought a cross-cut saw and a carpenter's level to Bryant's office because, he said, "I thought I might have to cut some red tape."

Diehl announced as a GOP candidate for governor of Texas this year, then state GOP headquarters announced he would not be on the ballot because he failed to pay a $1,000 filing fee.

He also filed as a GOP candidate for governor in 1962 but also failed to pay the fee.

Diehl polled several hundred votes in a 1961 special U.S. Senate race when 72 candidates ran for the seat vacated by Lyndon Johnson. Filing fee was only $5.

He said his wife and three children live in Houston, Tex., but that he is building a motel nine miles east of Mt. Ida at Silver, an old mining community which he and others are trying to rebuild as a tourist attraction.

Hinshaw to File for Congress

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. E. (Jerry) Hinshaw, a Springdale poultry firm executive, said he would file today as a Republican candidate for the 3rd District congressman's seat.

His candidacy gives the Republican Party a primary in a major race for the first time in memory. Hal Cochran, a Fort Smith businessman, already has filed for the office.

The winner of the Cochran-Hinshaw race will face Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., who is seeking an 11th term in the House. No Democratic opponent has appeared for Trimble.

Hinshaw, 47, is an executive of Arbor Acres Farms, a poultry breeding organization. He is a former president of the Arkansas Poultry Federation.

Hinshaw said his platform would be "basically the two-party system. 'I have the feeling that this is the greatest chance we've ever had in Arkansas to have a two-party system,'" he said.

He added that a major factor in his decision to run was Winthrop Rockefeller's announcement as a GOP candidate for governor.

Another factor was a Republican upsurge in neighboring states, Hinshaw said, particularly Bud Wilkinson's candidacy for the Senate in Oklahoma.

"I plan a real hard-hitting campaign in all 18 counties of my district," Hinshaw said.

Ordinance on Blasting Is Voided

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court voided today a Fort Smith ordinance prohibiting blasting within the city limits.

The court said the city has authority to regulate blasting but not to prohibit it when it is done in the course of a legitimate business.

And the court held that if the Mississippi Valley Engineering Co. conducted blasting operations in a 23-acre rock quarry owned by James M. Hackler, it will be conducting a legitimate business operation.

The ruling reversed Sebastian Chancellor Hugh Bland who had authorized the city to enforce the ordinance. Hackler and Mississippi Valley filed suit against the city. Bland first issued a temporary injunction against enforcement of the ordinance, but later dissolved his order.

Mississippi Valley leased the quarry from Hackler to obtain stone for an Arkansas River construction project.

The court reversed a Pulaski Circuit Court verdict returning a judgment of $4,696 against Prairie County Sheriff E. O. Hamilton because he failed to return an "execution" to the county clerk's office within after 60 days after it was issued.

The execution, dated Aug. 30, 1961, directed Hamilton to seize any property of one R. W. Coyle against whom the Pan

Curfew Ordered in Manila

MANILA (AP) — Mayor Antonio J. Villegas has ordered a 9 p. m. curfew for all persons under 18 years of age because of recent teen-age violence.

Excepted from the curfew are children accompanied by parents, those "running lawful errands" and those whose work requires them to be on the streets after the curfew hour.

Pledges Must Be Filed by 4 p.m. Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Today is the last day that Democratic Party candidates will be able to file their party pledges with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

Democratic party Chairman Leon Catlett said Monday that on Wednesday party pledges must be filed with party Secretary Jack Lynn. Lynn will be on duty between 10 a.m. and 12 noon at the Marion Hotel.

The filing deadline is 12 noon Wednesday. Bryant will be allowed to accept the pledges until 4:30 this afternoon but party rules do not allow his office to accept the pledges on the last day of filing.

Traditionally, filing headquarters moves to the Marion on the last day.

At that time active politicians and former politicians gather. The active group includes any last minute candidates who want to file.

The former politicians usually engage in horseplay by pretending they are going to be candidates for offices.

The gathering at the Marion has been one of the most colorful aspects of politics in Arkansas.

The often imagined picture of smoke-filled rooms becomes a reality as politicians gather to discuss the upcoming elections.

Republicans are not affected by the transfer of filing headquarters. They continue to qualify as candidates at party headquarters and file their corrupt practices pledge with the secretary of state's office until the deadline.

American Southern Corp. had obtained a $2,782 judgment in Pulaski Circuit Court.

Hamilton returned the execution to the Prairie Circuit Clerk within 60 days, stating that Coyle had no merchantable property. He contended that the execution did not show that it had been issued in Pulaski County. Later he learned of the error, but not in time to return the execution to the Pulaski court within 60 days.

Arkansas law provides that when the deadline for returning an execution is not met, the person or company holding the judgment can sue the sheriff. Pan American Southern did this.

Auction Houses Target of Jury

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Samuel H. Kirsch, president of two Hot Springs Auction Houses, said Monday that the Garland County Grand Jury had been advised that auction houses should be eliminated.

Kirsch made the statement after Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs told the jury that the auction houses, located across from Bath House Row should be eliminated on the grounds that they are a public nuisance.

Kirsch said the auction houses had long been recognized as a legitimate business.

Dobbs also told the jury to investigate the status of a Hot Springs ordinance prohibiting sidewalk solicitation for customers.

Kirsch said the courts have held the auction houses have the same right to solicit as do any other businesses.

"When the grand jury members make the investigation, we hope they will determine if there is any personal or political intention behind the charge," Kirsch said.

U.S. Deplores Withdrawal of French

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States deplored the French withdrawal of naval officers from NATO headquarters today because it shows a further deterioration in the organization of the Atlantic alliance.

State Department officials said, however, that the action in itself was not very important, since the French had already withdrawn their naval units from potential NATO control.

"We deplore it, of course," a spokesman said. "But we must keep in mind that the basic commitments of France to the defense of the West as they are set down in the North Atlantic Treaty are unimpaired."

Both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations have discounted the effects of a long series of French actions on the unity and strength of the Atlantic alliance.

But some officials now believe that these deliberate efforts to paper over the cracks in NATO with reassuring statements are becoming useless if not outright harmful since they pretend a degree of unity and cooperation which does not in fact exist at all.

CHATTER

By "BILL"

When a customer comes to Raley's Style Shoppe and begins to ask for something that will not wrinkle, can be worn from dawn until midnight, is washable, packable, comfortable and just about everything else... we suspicion right off they are going to the Fair.

Thousands upon thousands will be training, planning and driving to the New York World's Fair, and I wish we could be right there with them!

Regardless of how you travel, nobody wants to be burdened with a lot of extra luggage. The only way to avoid this is planning, and the time to start is NOW!

We suggest a summer suit, one of the new French dark cottons, jacket, blouse & skirt to match. Fully lined, smartly tailored, easy to care for... $29.95. A Korset of California knit, either a one-two or three piece will take you just about anywhere, and off or on, there will never be a single wrinkle! We have several styles to choose from; the colors are beautiful; and they are priced at $25.95. We have just purchased a Jack Mann seersucker, a two-piece dress that looks like a suit. Simple button-down jacket with a skirt that makes you look and feel slim... $25.95. The Jon McCauley black and white costume is very smart and practical. The dress has a scooped neckline, and the jacket has elbow-length sleeves... $35.00.

Be sure to take a little sheath cocktail dress for that evening out on the town; we have lovely ones for only $29.95. The best thing to do is come in and see what we have to offer... the place is Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Fidelis Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church will have a potluck supper Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ben Rateliff at Oakhaven. Hostesses will be Mrs. Margaret McMahan, Mrs. Ruby Atchley, Mrs. Lena Aslin, Mrs. Diane Beasley and Mrs. Rateliff.

Court Taking Up Florida Marriage Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on validity of Florida laws prohibiting marriages between Negroes and whites. The laws also make it a crime for a Negro man and white woman, or white man and Negro woman, to habitually occupy the same room at night.

The ruling was asked by Dewey McLaughlin, described as a Negro, and Connie Hoffman, a white woman, who were arrested in Miami Beach in February 1962. Each was sentenced to 30 days in jail and $150 fine after conviction of living in the same room.

Counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in a brief on behalf of the defendants argued their conviction violated federal guarantees of equal protection and due process of law.

A Florida welfare worker testified at trial of the two that the white woman stated she began living with McLaughlin as her common law husband in 1961 but had never had a formal marriage to him.

The Florida law under which the two were convicted bars living together by persons of different races "who are not married to each other." The appeal of the two persons said their case raised the question

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year time is on the side of those opposing a constitutional change to undo the Supreme Court's ban on Bible reading or prayers as a religious exercise in public schools.

The big House push to make this change—there are 146 proposed changes—is coming late in 1964, perhaps much too late. The leader of it, Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., is a little gloomy about it himself.

Even if the elections weren't coming up, this is a sore subject. With House and Senate members anxious to go home to campaign, much will be left undone in the rush to get away. That would be true in any election year.

But in this one the Senate's Southern filibuster, which has lasted weeks and will go on more weeks, will leave unfinished business piled up this summer.

In 1962 the Supreme Court held that a state may not compose and prescribe a form of prayer to be recited daily at the opening of its public schools. The court got an angry reaction to this one. But it was underfired.

In 1963 the court went further by holding a state or city cannot require the Bible to be read, even without comment, or the Lord's Prayer to be recited each day at the opening of its public schools.

Criticism thundered over the court—the cry went up: "Are we to become godless like Russia?"—but the justices pointed out they were simply trying to make sure there would be no violation of the Constitution's First Amendment.

This was the court's position: the First Amendment requires government to maintain strict neutrality, neither aiding nor opposing religion. It says: "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

The court has been attacked from the beginning of its history, although perhaps never more so than on its Bible-prayer decision, and with various results.

Right now there are wide divisions on the court's Bible-prayer rulings for any attempt to amend the Constitution to give government approval to Bible reading instantly raises questions.

This is the amendment Becker proposed: "Nothing in this Constitution shall be deemed to prohibit the offering, reading from, or listening to prayers or biblical scriptures, if participation therein is on a voluntary basis, if any governmental or public school, institution or place."

An idea of some church opinion is given by this: The Becker amendment has been opposed by a group of Maryland clergymen from Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist churches, the United Church of Christ, Seventh-day Adventists, Society of Friends and the Jewish faith.

They said the First Amendment as it stands, barring Con-

Pravada Rips Into Chinese Leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party organ Pravda ripped into Red China's leaders again today, accusing them of having a contemptuous attitude toward peace.

The accusation was contained in a front-page editorial dedicated to the 15th anniversary of what Pravda called the "peace champions movement."

"The Chinese splitters, who look with contempt on the struggle of the peoples for peace, transfer their subversive activity to the world movement of peace champions too," Pravda said.

"One cannot fail to see that the actions of the Chinese representatives in this movement are subordinated to the adventurist views of Peking leaders on the questions of war and peace. are directed toward breaking the unity of peace champions."

"Essentially their position merges with that of the enemies of peace."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today contempt of court citations against two Memphis lawyers who made a jury-stacking charge in Pulaski Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court said, however, that fines of $250 each and the two days they had already served in jail were sufficient punishment for the attorneys, James O. Garner and Bernard M. Rosen.

Circuit Judge Guy Amsler sentenced Rosen to 10 days in jail and Garner to five days last Jan. 3 after a contempt hearing. The men were released on bond the next day on an order from the Supreme Court.

The high court said that Garner and Rosen were clearly in contempt when Rosen said in Amsler's chambers that Garner had been informed that the jury had been stacked against the clients Garner and Rosen were representing in a civil damage suit.

The Supreme Court said the jury-stacking charge was proved to be without foundation and that the punishment handed out by Amsler was justified. But the court said the ends of justice would not be served by making the men return to jail.

The principal purpose of contempt charges, the court said, is to guarantee the upholding of public confidence in the integrity of the judicial system.

It said further that Garner and Rosen appeared to have acted from misinformation rather than malice.

"The allegation of jury stacking has been demonstrated to be so wholly without foundation that it is not possible to think that the standing of the Pulaski Circuit Court in the minds of the public has been impaired in the slightest degree," said Justice George Rose Smith in the unanimous opinion.

"MY DOCTOR..."

This possessive phrase is familiar to all. It represents the profound confidence American people have in physicians. But do you really have a family physician?

Even though you may have been fortunate, not requiring medical care, it is stitch-in-time wisdom to establish a "family doctor" relationship.

Simply contact the physician of your choice, requesting that you would like him to serve your family should the need arise.

And if such a need arises, our prescription department is prepared to serve you and your family.

—HOW CAN WIFE, ETC. ...
By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: When men are in their 50's, they seriously think of planning for retirement. Assuming that the children are not living at home anymore, there's still a great deal of work for the women of the home. When the man retires, more work is added, because he's home for three meals instead of two. What about retirement for the housewife? I wish I had a retirement plan to look forward to. —Mrs. B. N.

Dear Mrs. B. N.: "A man must work from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done," is a very accurate, poetic cliché. But it is less accurate now than when it was written many years ago. Younger generations are enjoying much more togetherness. It is true the men do retire, and since you claim the same rights for women so persuasively, let's work out your retirement plan together.

Retiring From What?

First, let's decide what you are retiring from. In your 60's, your child-raising days are over. Your homemaking duties consist of cleaning, shopping, and cooking, with some laundry work on the side.

Why not mechanize and streamline this work as much as possible? Buy the dishwasher, the washing machine, the magic-controlled stove, and even have your groceries sent over from the store. How does that sound to you? Probably not so good.

My experience with most women of retirement age is this: they would be lost without their daily shopping trip to some fairytale of a supermarket or their own friendly store. Many

Syrians Strike in Protest

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Baazars in Damascus and other Syrian cities were closed again today in a general strike protesting the Syrian government's socialism, reports reaching Beirut said.

The strike resumed Sunday after a Moslem religious holiday and issuance of a new constitution proclaiming Syria a People's Democratic Socialist Republic.

Tension was reported mounting in Syria where Gen. Amin Hafez, chairman of the Revolutionary Council, has charged Iraq and the United Arab Republic with financing an armed uprising in the city of Hama 11 days ago.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser declared the accusation was "a lie" and said "Syrians need no encouragement to revolt against persecution."

Hafez's troops put down the Hama rebellion and he warned that "feudalists and reactionaries" who continued to oppose his Baath Socialist regime would be destroyed.

Criticism thundered over the court—the cry went up: "Are we to become godless like Russia?"—but the justices pointed out they were simply trying to make sure there would be no violation of the Constitution's First Amendment.

This was the court's position: the First Amendment requires government to maintain strict neutrality, neither aiding nor opposing religion. It says: "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

The court has been attacked from the beginning of its history, although perhaps never more so than on its Bible-prayer decision, and with various results.

Right now there are wide divisions on the court's Bible-prayer rulings for any attempt to amend the Constitution to give government approval to Bible reading instantly raises questions.

This is the amendment Becker proposed: "Nothing in this Constitution shall be deemed to prohibit the offering, reading from, or listening to prayers or biblical scriptures, if participation therein is on a voluntary basis, if any governmental or public school, institution or place."

An idea of some church opinion is given by this: The Becker amendment has been opposed by a group of Maryland clergymen from Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist churches, the United Church of Christ, Seventh-day Adventists, Society of Friends and the Jewish faith.

They said the First Amendment as it stands, barring Con-

Pravada Rips Into Chinese Leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party organ Pravda ripped into Red China's leaders again today, accusing them of having a contemptuous attitude toward peace.

The accusation was contained in a front-page editorial dedicated to the 15th anniversary of what Pravda called the "peace champions movement."

"The Chinese splitters, who look with contempt on the struggle of the peoples for peace, transfer their subversive activity to the world movement of peace champions too," Pravda said.

"One cannot fail to see that the actions of the Chinese representatives in this movement are subordinated to the adventurist views of Peking leaders on the questions of war and peace. are directed toward breaking the unity of peace champions."

"Essentially their position merges with that of the enemies of peace."

Court Backs 2 Contempt Citations

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today contempt of court citations against two Memphis lawyers who made a jury-stacking charge in Pulaski Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court said, however, that fines of $250 each and the two days they had already served in jail were sufficient punishment for the attorneys, James O. Garner and Bernard M. Rosen.

Circuit Judge Guy Amsler sentenced Rosen to 10 days in jail and Garner to five days last Jan. 3 after a contempt hearing. The men were released on bond the next day on an order from the Supreme Court.

The high court said that Garner and Rosen were clearly in contempt when Rosen said in Amsler's chambers that Garner had been informed that the jury had been stacked against the clients Garner and Rosen were representing in a civil damage suit.

The Supreme Court said the jury-stacking charge was proved to be without foundation and that the punishment handed out by Amsler was justified. But the court said the ends of justice would not be served by making the men return to jail.

The principal purpose of contempt charges, the court said, is to guarantee the upholding of public confidence in the integrity of the judicial system.

It said further that Garner and Rosen appeared to have acted from misinformation rather than malice.

"The allegation of jury stacking has been demonstrated to be so wholly without foundation that it is not possible to think that the standing of the Pulaski Circuit Court in the minds of the public has been impaired in the slightest degree," said Justice George Rose Smith in the unanimous opinion.

"MY DOCTOR..."

This possessive phrase is familiar to all. It represents the profound confidence American people have in physicians. But do you really have a family physician?

Even though you may have been fortunate, not requiring medical care, it is stitch-in-time wisdom to establish a "family doctor" relationship.

Simply contact the physician of your choice, requesting that you would like him to serve your family should the need arise.

And if such a need arises, our prescription department is prepared to serve you and your family.

DOROTHY DIX

—HOW CAN WIFE, ETC. ...
By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: When men are in their 50's, they seriously think of planning for retirement. Assuming that the children are not living at home anymore, there's still a great deal of work for the women of the home. When the man retires, more work is added, because he's home for three meals instead of two. What about retirement for the housewife? I wish I had a retirement plan to look forward to. —Mrs. B. N.

Dear Mrs. B. N.: "A man must work from sun to sun, but a woman's work is never done," is a very accurate, poetic cliché. But it is less accurate now than when it was written many years ago. Younger generations are enjoying much more togetherness. It is true the men do retire, and since you claim the same rights for women so persuasively, let's work out your retirement plan together.

Retiring From What?

First, let's decide what you are retiring from. In your 60's, your child-raising days are over. Your homemaking duties consist of cleaning, shopping, and cooking, with some laundry work on the side.

Why not mechanize and streamline this work as much as possible? Buy the dishwasher, the washing machine, the magic-controlled stove, and even have your groceries sent over from the store. How does that sound to you? Probably not so good.

My experience with most women of retirement age is this: they would be lost without their daily shopping trip to some fairytale of a supermarket or their own friendly store. Many

Syrians Strike in Protest

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Baazars in Damascus and other Syrian cities were closed again today in a general strike protesting the Syrian government's socialism, reports reaching Beirut said.

The strike resumed Sunday after a Moslem religious holiday and issuance of a new constitution proclaiming Syria a People's Democratic Socialist Republic.

Tension was reported mounting in Syria where Gen. Amin Hafez, chairman of the Revolutionary Council, has charged Iraq and the United Arab Republic with financing an armed uprising in the city of Hama 11 days ago.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser declared the accusation was "a lie" and said "Syrians need no encouragement to revolt against persecution."

Hafez's troops put down the Hama rebellion and he warned that "feudalists and reactionaries" who continued to oppose his Baath Socialist regime would be destroyed.

Prayer Ruling Very Touchy Subject

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year time is on the side of those opposing a constitutional change to undo the Supreme Court's ban on Bible reading or prayers as a religious exercise in public schools.

The big House push to make this change—there are 146 proposed changes—is coming late in 1964, perhaps much too late. The leader of it, Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., is a little gloomy about it himself.

Even if the elections weren't coming up, this is a sore subject. With House and Senate members anxious to go home to campaign, much will be left undone in the rush to get away. That would be true in any election year.

But in this one the Senate's Southern filibuster, which has lasted weeks and will go on more weeks, will leave unfinished business piled up this summer.

In 1962 the Supreme Court held that a state may not compose and prescribe a form of prayer to be recited daily at the opening of its public schools. The court got an angry reaction to this one. But it was underfired.

In 1963 the court went further by holding a state or city cannot require the Bible to be read, even without comment, or the Lord's Prayer to be recited each day at the opening of its public schools.

Criticism thundered over the court—the cry went up: "Are we to become godless like Russia?"—but the justices pointed out they were simply trying to make sure there would be no violation of the Constitution's First Amendment.

This was the court's position: the First Amendment requires government to maintain strict neutrality, neither aiding nor opposing religion. It says: "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Dodgers' Get Good Game From Drysdale

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale, the last healthy member of Los Angeles' Big Four, has given the Dodgers' beleaguered pitching staff its most impressive streak since putting together three consecutive victories.

Taking over where Phil Ortega left off Sunday, Drysdale pitched the Dodgers' second straight shutout Monday night, winning his first game in four starts by limiting Houston to six hits in a 6-0 victory built on a three-homer salvo.

Only one other game was scheduled in either league. In that, Washington whipped the Los Angeles Angels 6-2.

Drysdale's performance and home runs by Frank Howard, Ron Fairly and Willie Davis—the Dodgers had collected only eight homers in 12 previous games—topped off a heartening day for Manager Walt Alton.

Possibly the most important piece of news came from Los Angeles, where Sandy Koufax has been undergoing treatment for a muscle strain in his left arm. Dr. Robert Kerlan reported Koufax might be given permission to throw on the sidelines this weekend.

Besides Koufax, the Dodger staff has been depleted by injuries to Johnny Podres and relief specialist Ron Perranoski while the attack has lost the services of two-time batting champion Tommy Davis. Nevertheless, Alton said the Dodgers' poor start could not simply be traced to injuries.

"The injuries have hurt us," he said, "but the team was not playing up to par before anyone got hurt. Yes, we're crippled but that isn't all the reason for our troubles."

"What we've got to do is win as many as we can while we're crippled," he continued, "then move when we get all the injured men back. There is nothing wrong with the morale of this team right now that a couple of good wins and some base hits won't cure."

Howard and Fairly took care of the base hits. Each hit a two-run homer and also collected two singles. Willie Davis added a solo homer and a fine running catch that preserved Drysdale's shutout. With two men on and two out in the seventh, pinch hitter Al Spangler lashed a curling drive to left center that Davis speared with a final lunge after a long run.

Two-run singles by Mike Brumley and Don Zimmer gave the Senators four runs in the fourth inning off Angels starter Ken McBride. Fred Valentine drove in the other two tallies, one with his first major league homer.

Hog Baseballers Win Twin Bill

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas defeated Central Missouri College of Warrenburg, Mo., 7-5 and 1-9 to take both games of a baseball doubleheader here Monday.

Arkansas picked up three runs in the fourth inning and added four more in the fifth to overcome a 4-0 Central Missouri lead in the first game.

Ken Hatfield had a home-run for the Porkers.

Reliever Danny Mulholland, who pitched only two innings, was the winning pitcher. Reliever Jim Gurley was the loser.

In the second game, Mari Carter drove home the winning run with a single to left field with the bases loaded. Wally Freeman went the distance for Arkansas. Bob Bohn was the loser.

Brosnan Is Hopeful for a Comeback

By JOE MOOSHIL Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Brosnan, a writer who is now going to take a fling at broadcasting, hasn't abandoned hope of returning to baseball, but says he is beginning to feel like an ex-pitcher.

Brosnan was hired by the American Broadcasting Co. Monday to do two five-minute spot shows each Saturday and Sunday on a radio network broadcast.

Along with his writing, which currently includes six magazine articles and a book which must be finished by May 15, the scholarly looking right-handed relief specialist is a busy man, but not too busy to get back in baseball.

"I don't believe my pitching record last year indicated I had lost my effectiveness," Brosnan said. "Maybe the White Sox felt I was expendable but I certainly feel other clubs who admittedly need pitching might at least have contacted me."

Brosnan, 2, was given his unconditional release by the Chicago White Sox when all the other major league clubs waived on him at the ridiculous price of $1.

Brosnan tried to land a job with other clubs and even advertised for a baseball job, but found no takers.

"I've been waiting for someone to contact me but I've heard from no one," he said. "Apparently the only people who think I can still pitch are the fans, newspaper columnists and radio and television commentators."

Brosnan said he couldn't conceive of a conspiracy to keep him out of baseball.

"That would mean 20 clubs would have to agree on the matter and usually it's difficult to get five clubs to agree on something," he said.

Brosnan admitted his desire to pitch and write at the same time might be a drawback to landing a job, but he added: "I read where Casey Stengel says he needs pitching help but I haven't heard a word from the New York Mets."

Danny K Is Contrary to Tradition

By KELSO STURGEON Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If Cecil Carmine's Dandy K. wins the Kentucky Derby, Carmine can go into business with Jack Price of Carry Back fame showing the big names of racing how its done.

Just about everything, from the breeding to the way Dandy K. breaks from the starting gate, is contrary to the traditions of racing. And, just about everything Jack Price did with Carry Back raised the eyebrows of the industry's diehards.

Dandy K., whose stretch running is similar to that of Carry Back's, has won four of his last seven races — including the Fountain of Youth Stakes—and will be a big threat in the Derby if the pace is fast.

The colt was on the sidelines today as the $15,000-added Derby Trial Stakes held the spotlight at Churchill Downs.

The one-mile trial—the last prep for the Derby—attracted a field of seven, headed by Run-for-the-Roses favorite Hill Rise. The track was expected to be sloppy, giving Hill Rise his first race in the mud.

Dandy K. had his last race in preparation for the Derby Saturday in the seven-furlong Stepping Stone Purse and finished a fast-closing third behind Mr. Brick and The Scoundrel after stumbling and nearly falling down as he left the starting gate.

"We got Dandy K. by breeding the best we had to the best we could afford—and to me that's just as good as breeding what's supposed to be the best to the best," Carmine said Monday.

Dandy K. is a son of Chris K., who commands a stud fee of $150.

The colt's dam is Speed Trust, one of two broodmares in Carmine's stable at Lexington.

R. E. (Red) Wingfield, who trains Dandy K., said he believes the colt "has a real good chance in the Derby. If the pace is fast, we should give them a real battle when they start running in that stretch."

Today's trial field was rounded out by Roman Brother, Clem Pac, He's a Gem, Mr. Moonlight, Grand Garcon and Rob-

Travelers Lose to Spokane

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Errorless baseball and a wide-open second inning gave Spokane an 8-5 Pacific Coast League baseball victory over the Arkansas Travelers here Monday night.

Spokane brought home seven runs in the second on two errors, two walks, triples by Nat Oliver and Del Griffith and a double by Al Ferrara for a lead they never relinquished.

The Travelers picked up three runs in the third inning when Cal Emery followed three singles with a double. They added two more in the sixth, again on a double by Emery.

Gary Kroll started for Arkansas but was relieved in the second by Bobby Locke. Kroll was the loser.

Ken Rowe was the winner for Spokane. He and Mel McGavock, who relieved starter Howie Reed, shut out the Travelers after the sixth.
